PRESIDENT DATE

It is the policy of the Technical College of the Lowcountry that successful applicants for non-provisional admission must be 18 years of age or older, or possess a high school diploma or its equivalent.

Under certain circumstances, an applicant under the age of 18 who has not graduated from high school may be considered for enrollment through special agreement between the college, the parent or guardian, and/or the principal of the school where the applicant has been, or is, attending.
