Strategic Plan Budget

The advantage for the college using its strategic plan to allocate resources is every one knows ahead of time which activities have priority and which will be receiving resources in any given budget year.

Use all the tools and opportunities available to you. Illustrative example:

The College leveraged community interest in supporting the region's number one economic driver (Travel Tourism) to secure funds to build/add an additional 26,000 sq ft in academic space (Culinary Institute of the South) in a critical student market – southern Beaufort County. The area is within reach of 41% of the college's potential student market. Student market analysis in the area indicates strong interest in Business, Finance/Accounting and Computer Technology.

There are 8 classrooms at the Culinary Institute of the South. Accounting degree at the Culinary School? Other? Academic classrooms at any College facility in any college building are available to all programs.
